FRIED FROGS

A CLASSIC Midway Game enjoyed by kids and adults alike!

- The frogs open and close their mouths as they rotate on a platform which represents a kitchen frying pan or a pot. The skill consists in keeping the hook in the open mouth of the frog until it closes its mouth. By withdrawing the fishing rod, the frog is fished and the operator and player may establish if the frog fished has a prize inside its mouth or not. The prizes can be assigned according to the rules which are established for the game.
- The attraction consists of a hand-decorated fiberglass platform supported by a three-legged frame which folds up for easy transport and is run by a single phase motor.
- The game can be located indoor or outdoor: if in an outdoor location, the game should be covered as to protect it from the elements. The most common location is setting the game inside a round kiosk or small pavilion with roof.
- It is an individual or group (recommend no more than 6 players at a time) skill game where customers are given a pole to fish with. They then proceed to fish out a frog from the revolving table.
