GAME SET-UP

Please follow these few steps for proper set-up:

1. Unpack the game from its cage.
2. Unpack all loose parts equipped with the game and the spare parts as well. Make sure that some parts have not been packed or tied under the game table.
3. Lift the game about 36" from the ground and take away the safety pins from the three feet of the game.
4. Open the three feet and insert the safety pins again. Now the game is set up and steady. The feet of the game are adjustable from a minimum height of 16.5" to a max. height of 28.5".
5. Put 80 plastic frogs into the plastic holes on the playing table.

SETTING-UP THE CANVAS:

1. Insert the 5 metallic supports into the 5 fissures that are under the playing table.
2. After unfolding the canvas, insert the shorter plastic pipe in the slide guide on the shorter side of the canvas, and bend it in order to form a hoop.
3. Insert the longer plastic pipe in the slide guide on the longer side of the canvas, and bend it in order to form a second hoop.
4. Lean the CANVAS on the 5 metallic supports.
5. Open the bag that contains the hooks and the fishing lines and attach them to the ring of every fishing rod.
6. Connect the plug to a socket of the proper voltage and frequency of the motor.

PLEASE NOTE: the motor needs VENTILATION so leave the part under the game open. Do not cover with panels or other stuff in order not to burn the motor out.

Tip: Keeping the game lower may help attract your younger audience.

WHERE TO LOCATE THE GAME

The game should be located indoor or outdoor: if in an outdoor location, the game should be covered as to protect it from the elements. The most common location is setting the game inside a round kiosk or small pavilion with roof.

It is recommended that the game is not placed against a wall, but centrally in order to let people play from any side of the game.

If a kiosk isn't available, fences should be installed all around the game, in order to keep players at a proper distance from the game. The suggested fence distance is approximately 24" to 30" from the game.

It is highly recommended to add rubber matting around the game in order to protect any frogs from receiving damage if they are dropped.

Keeping the game lower may help attract your younger audience.

HOW TO PLAY WITH FRIED FROGS GAME

It is an individual or group (recommend no more than 6 players at a time) skill game where customers are given a pole to fish with. They then proceed to fish out a frog from the revolving table.

All the operations for playing are assisted by an operator who collects the money; he gives the player a fishing rod; supervises the game, and checks if players won prizes. When the players have finished their turn, the operator collects the fishing rods and repeats with the next guest.

PLAYING WITH FISHING RODS.

The players have to succeed in fishing the frogs using a special fishing rod with a special bait (hook).

The skill consists in trying to fish the frogs when their mouths are open, as the rotary movement of the platform causes them to open and close the mouth.

The prizes are assigned according to the value previously given to each fished frog (see following section "the prizes").

THE PRIZES

Although the prizes are not supplied by Bob's Space Racers, here are some suggestions about what prizes and how and when giving them to the players.

PRIZE SELECTION

By offering a variety of prizes you can appeal to a large audience. Young or old, male or female, EVERYBODY plays.

The most common kind of prizes are stuffed animals and soft toys of each size and any kind of cheap gadgets and toys. Themed prizes, namely frogs, are very appreciated by the players, especially by children.

- Many operators place the soft toys above the game, tied up together to the roof of the pavilion, thus creating a colourful and attractive bunch over the game.

AWARDING PRIZES

As far as giving prizes is concerned, there is no rule and park owners adopt different methods: one of the most common methods is the following: Put red, blue and yellow tokens inside some of the 80 frogs (Example: 15 red tokens, 15 blue tokens and 15 yellow tokens; so 45 frogs out of 80 have tokens into their mouths). The player who is able to fish 3 frogs with the red mark is able to trade up to a larger prize; the player who fishes 3 blue-marked frogs can trade-up to the next size prize and so on.

Of course, the players cannot recognize the marked frogs, so they win prizes only if they are lucky. In spite of this, most owners agree in always giving a small prize to every player anyway, especially for children.

- Our customers have had the best success operating FRIED FROGS a "WINNER EVERY GAME".
- Customers with a long experience in operating redemption games put chips, signs or colored tokens inside the frogs mouths.

The colour of the chips in frog's mouth will determine the size of prize awarded.

EXAMPLE:

Red tokens or signs in frog mouth = Small prize

Orange tokens = Medium prize

Blue tokens = Large prize.

Players can trade 2 small prizes for 1 medium; 2 mediums for one large or 2 larges for 1 X-Large.

TECHNICAL SHEET

The Fried Frog skill game is intended for single players or groups – and intended to distribute prizes for playing the game.

Suggested number of players for this model: 6

Number of frogs: 80

The frogs open and close their mouths as they rotate on a platform which represents a kitchen frying pan or a pot. The skill consists in keeping the hook in the open mouth of the frog until it closes its mouth. By withdrawing the fishing rod, the frog is fished and the player may establish if the frog he has fished has a prize inside its mouth or not. The prizes can be assigned according to the rules which are established for the game.

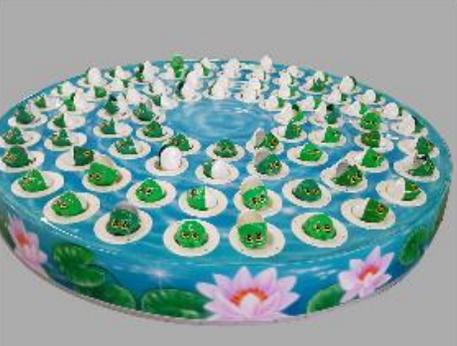

The attraction consists of a hand-decorated fiberglass platform supported by a three-legged frame which folds up for easy transport and is run by a single phase 0.25 hp 20 v. motor.
